

Britain Will Battle Japan Side-By-Side With Yankees Says Churchill

Washington, May 19 (AP)—Setting his jaw firmly, Prime Minister Churchill pledged today British participation in an eventual finish fight until Japan's war industries and cities are laid in ashes.

Churchill was greeted by Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) in his office before they entered the House chamber.

The Prime Minister went around the speaker's office to shake hands with each clerk. Then, while the audience was waiting in the House Chamber, he sat down and made a few last minute changes in his speech.

Wild Ovation

Entering the Chamber Churchill was greeted by an ovation that lasted two minutes and was punctuated by rebel yells. Speaker Rayburn introduced the visitor with the assertion that this is a high mark in the nation's history with Congress having as its guest, "one of the most distinguished figures on earth."

There was another burst of applause before Churchill began talking at 12:34 in clear, clipped syllables.

Churchill said 17 months had passed since he addressed Congress the first time and for more than 500 days since the Allies have battled shoulder to shoulder against a mighty enemy and acted in close concert in many parts of the world.

"Righteous War"

He counted it a "high mark" in his life, he asserted, to be invited to come back before the American Legislature.

He said "there is nothing more important for the future of the world than fraternal association" of our peoples in the prosecution of a "righteous war" and in peace.

With America's high officialdom and dignitaries of her Allies sitting in the House and Senate in joint session, Churchill was making his first public appearance since his arrival more than a week ago for war talks with President Roosevelt.

He brought with him Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell and other military leaders from the India theater, but he told his audience, he did not bring them here "merely to improve the health and happiness of the Mikado of Japan."

Science of Logistics

They were brought here, he added to thrash out all the points raised in a Pacific war "and there are many."

If all that is necessary to turn the forces of the British in the East upon Japan is an order, he said, "then that order would be given this afternoon."

But he added that such movements are governed by what American military leaders "call the science of logistics—the art of supplying military forces."

A tight ring of armed guards was stationed around the capitol for Churchill's visit. Helmeted troops, armed with rifles, were posted at 20-foot intervals to form an outer circle, while others did sentinel duty at the entrances.

District of Columbia and Capitol police, along with a big detail of secret service men, augmented the soldier guard.

Churchill entered the capitol building at 12:15 p. m., Eastern war time as spectators cheered.

Many Dignitaries

It was a sort of combined Empire Day and United Nations Day. In Churchill's party were such dignitaries as Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada; the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Crown Princess Martha of Norway, Myron Taylor, Special Ambassador of President Roosevelt to the Vatican, and Bernard M. Baruch, presidential consultant.

Galleries in the big House chamber began filling early. Most of the early arrivals were women.

After his address, the Prime Minister was to be given a luncheon in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee room by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of that group and Bloom (D-NY) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Plan Big 4 Meeting

The British, Churchill said, will be in there fighting "side by side with you while there is breath in our bodies and blood flows in our veins."

There was thunderous applause from members of Congress and high officials of this and the British government as the black-suited Prime Minister spread his feet apart, stuck his hands in his pockets in a characteristic gesture and made his declaration.

Then, he disclosed a moment later, he and President Roosevelt hope for a meeting soon with Premier Stalin of Russia and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek of China.

Churchill declared also that Britain's air offensive is forcing Germany to withdraw "more and more" planes from the fighting fronts to "purely defensive" operations at the expense in loss of aggression and initiative.

This, he said, will prove a "major (Please Turn to Page 2)

NEXT R.C. BLOOD DONOR DAY TO BE HELD ON MAY 28

The fifth Red Cross Blood Donor Day in Adams county has been set for Friday, May 28, and appointments "to save a life" will be made by mail Monday with 160 Adams countians.

Notices of appointments at the blood donor station will go out to all sections of the county, Radford H. Lippy, donor service chairman for the county chapter, said today. The first appointments will be made for noon and will continue through the afternoon until 4:30 o'clock.

Monthly visits by the mobile Red Cross unit from Harrisburg began in January and in the first four months 404 pints of blood were received from volunteer donors in Adams county.

Mr. Lippy asked today that persons who receive notices of their appointments and find they cannot report at the blood donor station for any reason, report that fact to him by Thursday of next week so that there will be an opportunity to find a substitute donor.

Hope for Full Schedule

"There is expense involved in bringing the unit here and there are many persons who are eager to offer their blood so that any person who finds he cannot keep his appointment should notify me at once. Then we can arrange for another donor and keep the schedule for the afternoon filled," Mr. Lippy said.

Ladies from the Reformed church will be in charge of the kitchen at the donor station and St. James Lutheran members will serve in the dining room.

Plans for the entertainment and dance to be held by the Gettysburg High School Alumni association, May 28, were completed Tuesday evening at a meeting of the committee in charge at the high school.

"Bill" Jones' orchestra, featured at recent USO dances, was selected to provide music for the affair. A program of entertainment including skits, vocal selections, and piano, harmonica and guitar solos was arranged.

Decorations for the affair will be handled by O. W. Plack, Harrisburg decorator, it was announced. The firm was instructed to decorate the high school gymnasium, scene of the dance, on a patriotic theme.

Plan Entertainment

Refreshments will be served during the evening and the annual alumni award presentation to the seniors will be held. Hugh C. McIlhenny is chairman of the awards committee.

The price of admission was set at 50 cents including tax and it was announced that the entertainment-dance will be open to all of the alumni of the high school and that each alumnus may bring a guest.

The committee in charge of invitations reported that its list of names of alumni is incomplete and stated that all alumni are invited whether they receive a formal invitation or not.

Every effort will be made to make the program one of the best ever held, the committee said. The affair is the only event scheduled by the alumni this year. It will begin at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Weather Forecast

Thunder showers tonight and in south portion Thursday morning; somewhat cooler.

PRESERVING AND CANNING SUGAR SET AT 25 LBS.

The Local War Price and Rationing Board has received instructions governing the issuance of sugar for use in home canning, making jams, jellies, preserves and fruit butters.

Each consumer may receive up to five pounds for making jams, jellies, preserves and fruit butters, and each consumer may obtain one pound for each four quarts (eight pounds) of finished canned fruits. However, the aggregate allowance for both canning and making jellies, etc., may not exceed twenty-five pounds for the period from March 1st, 1943, to March 1st, 1944.

This program relates only to the canning and preserving of fruits for consumption by the individual. Each member of a family unit may give away, but not sell, up to fifty quarts of finished canned fruits in one calendar year.

Extra 10 Pounds

Later one stamp in Ration Book I will be made valid for ten pounds or less, at applicant's option, for sugar for home canning.

The number of the stamp will be announced later. This stamp should be presented to the retailer.

If a consumer does not need the full ten pounds for each person, he or she is expected to cooperate with the rationing program and with the war effort by purchasing only the amount actually needed.

Applications for canning sugar in excess of ten pounds per consumer will be distributed to the various retailers in Adams county and may be obtained by the consumer there.

Data Required

These applications must set forth (1) the number of quarts of processed foods the applicant and the persons on whose behalf the applications are made intends to produce from fresh fruits; (2) the amount of sugar to be used for making jams, jellies, preserves and fruit butters and (3) the names and number of Ration Books I of each person of that family unit.

These applications, together with ration book I issued to each person on whose behalf the application is made, should be mailed to the Rationing Board serving that area in which the family lives.

The Boards have received specific instructions that in any event no consumer may receive more than twenty-five pounds of sugar for canning and for making jams, jellies, preserves and fruit butters. This means that the certificate mailed by the Board pursuant to such application shall in no event exceed fifteen pounds of sugar for each consumer, because the other ten pounds will be obtained by use of the ration stamp.

File 1 Application

Although the maximum allotment is twenty-five pounds, in many instances the Board will not issue certificates for the maximum, because it would be more than that consumer would need, it was announced.

A family unit need file only one application for all the members of the family, and not a separate application for each consumer.

Applications forms should be obtained from retailers. It will not be necessary for people to write, telephone or call at the Rationing Boards for these forms. When filled out, the applications, together with Ration Book I for each member of the family unit, may be mailed or brought to the Rationing Boards.

Many Rural Schools Closing This Week

School will close for the summer for students of approximately 45 of the county's rural schools by the end of this week, the office of Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh reported today.

A number of the country schools already have closed and approximately half of the 90 rural schools in the county will be closed on Friday. The remainder are expected to close during next week.

Most of the schools in the boroughs of the county will close early in June or in the last week of May, it was stated.

The Rev. Paul D. Leedy, pastor of the Gettysburg Methodist church, is serving temporarily as an instructor in the English department at Dickinson college where the regular faculty is not sufficiently large to handle the increased number of students sent to the college training detachment which has been established there.

The Rev. Mr. Leedy goes to Dickinson five days a week to teach the student soldiers the art of public speaking.

16 BOYS GET "TENDERFOOT" SCOUT BADGES

Sixteen new members of Boy Scout Troop 78 received Tenderfoot badges Tuesday evening at a Parents' Night program held in the troop room in the Cumberland township election house, Steinwehr avenue.

Parents of the scouts pinned the badges on their sons during the candlelight investiture ceremony which also marked the formal appointment of Robert Baltzley as assistant scoutmaster of the troop. Richard Hess and Eugene Cole as acting junior assistant scoutmasters, Joseph Steinhour, scribe and Joseph Liller, Quartermaster.

The scouts given Tenderfoot badges were: Joseph Steinhour, Joseph Redding, Joseph Liller, Joseph Patti, Richard Arentz, Richard Hess, Eugene Cole, Raymond Carter, Robert Cole, Richard Cole, Samuel Becker, Patrick Wilkinson, Peter Kuhn, Charles Small and James Vingling. John McKenrick, who has been ill, received his badge in absentia.

Over 40 scouts and parents were present. Scoutmaster Edward Kerrigan presided.

Priest Talks

The Rev. Norbert A. Sulowski, assistant pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, and a member of the troop committee, pronounced the invocation and gave a short talk on "The Parent's Play in Scouting."

Richard and Robert Cole sang several duets. Richard Hess demonstrated proper methods of filling a pack and carrying it. A knot tying demonstration was given by Joseph Steinhour. Assistant Scoutmaster Baltzley presented guitar solos while Scoutmaster Kerrigan showed uses of the scout neckerchief.

The value of scout training in a soldier's life was reported by Private Robert Little, U. S. Air Corps, Clearwater, Florida, in a letter read by Scoutmaster Kerrigan. Private Little, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Little, South Washington street, was a former member of Troop 78.

Here And There News Collected At Random

The dismissal of J. A. "Gus" Tawney as street commissioner of Gettysburg by the Highway department of the borough council has evoked more than passing public sympathy for the veteran borough employee.

For some time there has been friction between some members of the Highway committee and Mr. Tawney.

In the current controversy Council did not act as an official body. On the contrary the Highway committee, designated to settle the difference, voted 2 to 1 to dismiss the 87-year-old street commissioner.

If the committee's action is supported by substantial charges against Mr. Tawney sufficient to warrant his dismissal they should be presented, with proof, to the town council.

Then, too, Mr. Tawney is deserving of an opportunity to defend himself against any and all charges.

But public sympathy and consideration of the loyal service Mr. Tawney has rendered this community for almost twenty years, coupled with his advanced age, are factors that should be considered.

Members of town council would do well to demand of its Highway committee proof of any charges they have against Mr. Tawney that warranted his dismissal.

Our own thought in the matter is that the least Mr. Tawney deserves is retention as an employee of the borough if for no other reasons than his long service and his advanced years.

In the more than 19 years he worked for the borough, Mr. Tawney missed four days from his regular duties—up to this week. There were no vacations.

HOUSECLEANING TO HELP SCRAP DRIVE TONIGHT

The completion of spring housecleaning by most of the women of the town should result in this evening's scrap drive in the borough being the best held so far, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, chairman of the Gettysburg Salvage committee, said today.

"Every woman in cleaning the home during the spring finds quite a number of useless articles that have been stored away during the winter months or placed in cellars or attics for removal later on," Doctor Coleman said. "Now is the time for residents to get rid of those broken metal articles, old rags, tin cans, torn nylon or silk stockings and other articles that have accumulated during the winter," the chairman continued.

The dinner was prepared by a committee of men comprising W. Vernon Corle, sub-chairman in charge of transportation reported that five trucks will be used during the collection starting at 6 o'clock this evening. Fifteen firemen will man the trucks, two of which have been donated by the fire company and one each by the R. W. Wentz and Son Furniture store, the Citizens Oil company and the Gettysburg Water company. A truck offered by Burgess Fred Pfeiffer will be held in reserve to be used if needed, Mr. Corle said.

Ask Public Cooperation

The firemen have been asked to report to the engine house a few minutes before 6 o'clock this evening to start their work. A driver and two men will be selected for each truck. The men will take opposite sides of the streets to pick up any salvage materials placed on the sidewalks.

Mr. Corle has asked everyone to place the scrap on the sidewalks prior to 6 o'clock this evening. If there are any articles too heavy to place on the sidewalk the individual may notify the collectors and they will remove the article from the home to the trucks, it was stated.

To Cover Stairway At Spotter Post

Work on enclosing the steel stairway leading from the third floor of the First National bank building to the spotter station on the roof was scheduled to start today according to an announcement by Chief Observer Wilbur J. Stallsmith.

Mr. Stallsmith reported on the plans for covering the stairway with canvas at a meeting of the spotter station staff held Tuesday evening at the court house.

A report from Captain Lowell T. Geddes of the Army Air corps who recently completed an inspection of the posts in the county was presented. It showed the local spotter post to be in "A-1" shape.

An appeal for adults to serve as spotters during the daytime was made. Rearrangement of the schedule for spotters caused by the closing of the college, seminary and other schools disclosed a number of vacancies during daytime hours.

She had with her 8 yards of material which, using Miss Ecker as a model, she draped to form the dress which the women wear in that country. Washington, May 19 (AP)—American pincers have closed their trap around Japanese positions on Attu island, the Navy reported today, and at least a part of the enemy troops are in retreat toward a last ditch stand.

The main enemy position on Attu island, Secretary Knox reported to a press conference yesterday, is at the southern end of Holtz bay. A subordinate position is held by the Japanese at Chichagof harbor which lies to the northeast of the Holtz bay position and between five and ten miles away.

Have Backs To Sea

The junction of American forces in the heights southeast of Holtz bay place the Japanese in a position where they are fighting with their backs to sea and have no choice except to make a stand either at Holtz bay or Chichagof harbor.

The fact that American troops now hold these heights suggests, although battle reports so far have not indicated it, that the Japanese are in an untenable position there and may be compelled to withdraw.

The only place to which they could then fall back, so far as is known here, would be Chichagof harbor. To prevent their becoming too strongly entrenched there it seemed likely that at least a part of the Massacre bay force would strike out in that direction in pursuit of the fleeing troops from the pass.

Flood In Ruhr Hits 54 Cities; 54,000 Homeless

By ROGER GREENE Associated Press War Editor

Allied raiders struck paralyzing new blows at Germany's vital transport system before dawn today as flood waters unleashed by the blasting of two giant dams engulfed more than 54 cities and towns and rolled up a mounting toll of death in the German Ruhr and Weser valleys.

At least 54,000 families were left homeless in the Ruhr alone, it was estimated.

A third big dam, six miles south of the shattered Mohne reservoir in the Ruhr, was reported in danger of bursting today.

An NBC broadcast from London said a mine dropped by the RAF had started seepage threatening a new cascade of flood waters and that German engineers were frantically attempting to prevent a break.

By daylight, a large formation of planes thundered across the channel, signalling the eighth consecutive day of the Allied aerial offensive.

German officials clamped down rigid censorship on details of the havoc, which resulted from the bursting of the Mohne and Eder dams by air-borne British mines on Sunday, and Berlin newspapers clamored for vengeance against the inevitable target for Nazi wrath, the Jews.

Reports reaching Stockholm said the Germans were demanding reprisals against the Jews "proportionate with the very great damage and loss of life caused by the attack," charging that a German Jewish refugee from the Reich had suggested the idea for the attack.

Russell A. Campbell Takes Bank Position

Russell A. Campbell, 429 Carlisle street, has accepted a clerical position at The Gettysburg National bank, it was announced today. He succeeds Maurice W. Hewlett, who resigned after seven years to take a position with the ordnance division at the Letterkenny depot at Chambersburg.

"Uncle Ed" Can't Supply Flowers For May 30th This Year

Ed Barbehenn, North Stratton street, said today that he will be forced to break a 33-year-old custom on Memorial Day this year because he will not be able to supply bouquets of flowers for school children to carry in the annual parade and to scatter in the National cemetery.

Due to the illness of his brother, George Barbehenn, Orrtanna, who recently suffered a stroke, Mr. Barbehenn said he will be forced this year to disappoint the hundreds of children who look to "Uncle Ed" each year to supply them with flowers to be strewn over the soldiers' graves.

Many of the flowers which Mr. Barbehenn supplied were secured from his brother for many years.

Last year Mr. Barbehenn presented more than 250 bouquets to youthful paraders. It was with "much regret" that he announced today the discontinuance of that service.

Good Evening
Blasting of the Ruhr dams has "dampened" the spirits of the Boche

Eight days after the American sea-borne contingents landed on Attu, opening an offensive to drive the Japanese out of the Aleutians, there was still no sign of Japanese reinforcements en route to support the beleaguered Attu garrison.

May Risk Naval Battle

Washington quarters declared, however, that the enemy might still attempt to get reinforcements into Kiska, 196 miles east of Attu, even at the risk of precipitating a naval battle with American warships in the nearby waters.

Observers pointed out that the Japanese recklessly expended ships, troops and planes in vain attempts to hold Guadalcanal and the Pagan Peninsula in New Guinea, and said that unless the enemy had learned his lesson in those theaters he would probably try the same thing in the Aleutians.

In the Southwest Pacific, Japanese alarm over the Allied threat to the big enemy base at Salamaua, New Guinea, was reflected by the heavy aerial assault poured on the little mountain town of Wau, 35 miles below Salamaua, which serves as the Allied forward base.

In the last four days, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced, the Japanese have sent 102 planes to attack Wau, including 25 bomb-carrying Zeros yesterday. In addition, 64 Japanese planes have been sent against the most advanced Allied position at Bordubi, only five miles from Salamaua.

Bomb 7 Bases

Meanwhile, Gen. MacArthur's bombers raked seven Japanese bases in widespread sweeps yesterday, attacking Rabaul, Gasmata, Arawe and Cape Gloucester, in New Britain; Lae and Finschhafen, in New Guinea; and Lorengau in the Admiralty Islands.

On the Burma front, land fighting was marked by small skirmishes in which British troops killed 23 Japanese, while in the skies RAF bombers and fighters hammered every water transport along the Bay of Bengal coast from the Mayu River to Sandoway and pounded other targets inland.

ALLIED TROOPS WELL TRAINED FOR INVASION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

While we are waiting anxiously to learn whether the Allied high command may find it feasible to undertake the essential invasion of France across the English channel this summer, it's good to know that there is in Britain a big force of highly trained, hard-as-nails specialists ready to act as the spear-head of that great adventure if and when it comes.

This outfit is known as the Combined Operations Command and comprises men from all three fighting services—Army, Navy and Air. That branch probably best known to the public is the famous Commando outfit of men as tough as they make 'em. The Commandos are the Army end of combined operations.

Difficult Task

These experts will be as vital to invasion as the scalpel is in surgery. The landing in France is likely to be the most difficult and the most costly in lives and equipment of anything of the kind in history.

Success will depend on the establishment of a bridge-head on the coast in the face of terrific enemy opposition—a bloody business. That initial landing to open the way for the regular Army cannot be a haphazard affair.

You can't just fling any ordinary contingent up on the beach and expect it to stick or even survive. The seizing and holding of that all-important bridge-head will be a job for great specialists—and they are ready.

How many of these chaps are there? Well, that's a secret. Apart from Britain, of course, America also is producing Commandos, and other Allied troops are passing through the combined operations command. So far as concerns the British force it's permissible to answer in some such general terms as I heard yesterday while chatting with Hilary St. George Saunders, the distinguished Briton who probably knows more about them than any other man.

"Many Thousands"

Saunders—a jovial and very live individual—is their official historian and has just published the story of the Commandos under the title of "Combined Operations." He says there are "many thousands," and since he is exceedingly careful in his language we know that he is talking about a lot of men.

The main business of combined operations—or let's just call them Commandos—is amphibious warfare. That means invasions, small or big, and naturally calls for intensive schooling in assault landings.

The Commandos are purely shock troops. Their job is to storm their way ashore and establish that bridge-head, which they hold until the regulars can be landed and take over, but they aren't for protracted holding operations.

It follows that the Commando must be a jack of all war trades. He must be not only a soldier but a bit of a sailor and must know enough about aerial affairs so he can cooperate with understanding. Most of all he must have guts and stamina. We don't need to go into that here, for you all have read of the really fierce preparation these men endure.

The Commandos have been training for a long time, and have quietly been raiding the continental coast from Norway to Spain. These raids have been partly to gain information and wage a war of nerves against the Boche, and partly to find out by trial and error how to make these attacks.

Biggest of all the raids was the Dieppe affair which turned out to be so costly in lives. However, combined operations in this harsh adventure learned invaluable lessons which will stand them in good stead in the hard days to come.

Unity Is Keynote

When it comes to real invasion the first objective must be a port for the use of the following transport. You don't have to worry about that on a raid, for you expect to go back home. But with all-out invasion you're going to stay ashore—you hope—and there must be a place for the troops and supplies to be put ashore.

Unity is the by-word of combined operations. All branches plan together for any expedition and carry out their task in closest cooperation. That word "unity," by the way, is pretty nearly synonymous with victory. It's what won Tunisia, and it's what will win the war.

Since the start of the committee's campaign last November, about 3,278,000 pairs have been salvaged in the state, Baker said, although silk stockings went off the market a year ago and nylons followed last fall.

REDS DESTROY 1,300 PLANES IN TWO WEEKS

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, May 19 (AP)—The telling blows dealt German air and supply bases during the past three weeks by Soviet airmen were reflected today in a front-line dispatch to Red Star, army newspaper, which said: "The Germans have begun to shift their air forces from Crimean airdromes to reinforce their exhausted air forces."

There was no elaboration in Red Star, but the Russians announced officially that they had destroyed or damaged 930 enemy planes in the week May 2-8, and had destroyed 370 planes from May 9 to May 15.

Land fighting has failed to keep step with the bitter aerial warfare although renewed activity was reported from the Kuban and Lischansk area.

Futile Attack

Northeast of Novorossisk in the Kuban, where the Germans have been counter-attacking for days in attempts to drive Red troops from the city's inner defenses, the Nazis lost a hundred dead in the futile attack last night. Fighting continued in the lower reaches of the Kuban river also, where Germans in row-boats attempted a crossing but lost four boats. References to the lower reaches of the Kuban meant the Russians were close to the Kerch strait.

No material changes were reported anywhere on the front.

(The German communique as broadcast by Berlin and recorded in London, said the Russians attacked on the Kuban bridgehead and in the area of Izyum after heavy artillery preparations. It said they were thrown back by a counter-thrust and that the Russians lost 15 tanks in one sector alone.)

Britain Will

As for Japan's cities and war industries, Churchill flatly declared: "In ashes they must surely die before peace comes to the world."

Churchill said he wanted to "repudiate any suspicion" that Britain is holding anything back from prosecution of the war in the east.

Tasks Are Divided

He reported that in his 1942 conferences with President Roosevelt the task of fighting the Axis had been divided at sea, with this nation taking over the "main responsibility" for prosecuting the war against Japan.

This included, he said, the task of defending Australia from invasion—which he called more threatening in 1942 than now.

Churchill, speaking from notes, told his listeners that anti-submarine measures had yielded record results recently, particularly in the last three weeks.

"While I regard the U-boat danger as still the greatest we face, I have confidence it will be met, contained and overcome," he said.

Alluding to the aerial offensive being carried out against Germany, Churchill said the British have been "vastly aided" by American day bombings.

The increasing numbers of American and British planes are being felt, he said, adding:

"There is no doubt the Allies vastly outnumber the air forces of the hostile forces of Germany, Italy and Japan."

"Enemy Weakens"

Churchill said the present Allied air war already has begun to "show the first mortal weakness" of the European enemy.

The more this is carried on, he added, the better for the Allies because they can replace planes quicker and in greater numbers than the Axis.

Declaring opinion is divided over whether air power alone can bring Germany and Italy to collapse, he said the "experiment is well worth trying."

Anyhow, he said, all are agreed that damage done to German industry by the air raids, including the recent ones destroying power dams, has been an "unparalleled devastation."

"It is our settled policy," he went on, "to make it impossible for Germany and Italy to carry on any war industry on a large scale either in Germany or Italy or occupied nations."

To Blast Japan

As for the hoped-for meeting with Stalin and Chiang, Churchill said that "how, when and where" the meeting might come off was something about which he could shed "no clear ray of light" at this time. The Prime Minister drew cheers when he declared that at the earliest possible moment an air offensive must be launched at military targets in Japan.

He struck out at the "cold-blooded execution" of American aviators by Japan but said it indicated Japanese "dread" of the possibility of future aerial attacks.

Referring to his conferences with Mr. Roosevelt, Churchill said that the "supreme object" of all planning is to come to grips with the enemy on the largest possible scale at the earliest possible moment "wherever that is profitable and—I may say—wherever it is possible."

Noting that Prime Minister Mackenzie King "is here with us today," Churchill, while the House cheered, paid tribute to Canada's "massive" contributions to the war effort.

And Britain's war leader had words of praise, too, for America's war production as he told of the parts its weapons played in the defeat of Rommel at El Alamein and his long retreat across Africa.

Worth Many Ships

Reviewing the African campaign, Churchill said the Allies' success there "gives the lie to Nazi and Fascist claims that parliamentary democracies were incapable of waging effective warfare."

No one can measure the results of the African victory, he said, but its opening of the Mediterranean is "worth several hundred ships."

The victory there was a blow to the enemy equal to the one he suffered at Saltingrad, Churchill said, with the Axis losing a quarter-million of its best troops and "vast masses of material."

He said that while the African campaign was well planned "the unexpected came to the aid of the design"—and the Allies could attribute a part of their smashing victory "to the military genius of Corporal Hitler."

It was the "insensate obstinacy" of Hitler, he declared, that caused the Axis to lose so heavily in men and equipment in Africa.

At one point Churchill said Britain had suffered more than double the United States loss in merchant tonnage but added that ship construction exceeded losses.

Churchill had high praise for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of the United Nations fighting forces in north Africa, saying while the House cheered its accord, "I do not think you could have chosen any man more capable than General Eisenhower."

The Upper County Lions club met Tuesday evening at the Biglerville high school where the dinner was served by the members of the Junior Home Economics club under the direction of Miss Emma Baer.

Ray Shetter, a new member of the high school faculty, was an additional guest. Vice President Leroy M. Zeigler presided. The program consisted of the showing of two motion picture films by Samuel Ehlman and Cecil R. Snyder on "Safety and Soil Erosion." The nominating committee reported its slate of officers which will be voted upon at the next meeting. The place for the next meeting will be announced later.

The meeting of the Biglerville Parent-Teachers' association which was to have been held Thursday evening has been postponed until Tuesday evening, May 25. At this time the grade school children will present an operetta.

Mrs. William H. Purdue, of Stonehurst, Philadelphia, has returned home after a visit with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy G. Lady, of Biglerville.

The Biglerville bank building grounds have been improved with the planting of a number of evergreen trees.

Miss Kay Keller, who has completed the first year's work as a student at Pennsylvania State college, is spending a vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Keller, of Benderville.

Roy Cook, who has completed two years' work as a student at Pennsylvania State college, is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cook, of Aspers, previous to being inducted into the Army.

Lloyd Kuhn, of Benderville, and J. D. Miller, of Biglerville, are in Philadelphia attending a bankers' convention.

Only 30 per cent of the pupils of the Biglerville schools are from the borough of Biglerville while only 24 per cent of the members of the graduating class this spring are from the town. This is revealed in the annual report of the school district. According to the report on April 30, there were 453 pupils in the school system, 137 of whom lived in the borough. Nine of the 37 members of the senior class are from the town.

Of the total of 453, 110 come from Butler township; 78 from Menallen township; 41 from Benderville, 37 from Tyrone township and 24 from Huntingdon township. All except five pupils from Dickinson township, Cumberland county, are from Adams county. Twelve townships and boroughs send pupils to the schools but Butler township is the only one outside of the borough with pupils in the twelve grades.

The armed forces, defense work and agriculture have taken about 50 pupils since the start of the year.

The O. T. T. club will meet Friday evening with Mrs. Ralph Shetter, of Biglerville.

Miss Bertha Heiges and Mrs. Charles B. Fidler entertained the members of the Pathfinder class of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school, Biglerville, Tuesday evening at the parsonage.

Government Revises Ruling On Re-roofing and Re-siding Houses

Restrictions Lifted on Use of Asbestos

Shingles to Meet Critical War Problem*

WITH the removal of the restrictions on the use of asbestos shingles for re-siding and re-roofing houses, home owners need no longer think of temporary repairs. If your home needs re-roofing, if the sidewalls need painting or repair, you can now apply Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles. And you can buy them at pre-war prices, too. Most home owners are familiar with the fireproof and durable qualities of Johns-Manville asbestos shingles but they may not know the beautiful new styles and colors that have more recently been developed in the J-M laboratories. We urge you to investigate these new shingles today.

Because Asbestos Siding Shingles need no preservative treatment—are fireproof—permanent as stone—and will completely transform the appearance of your home—and because asbestos roofing shingles have these same desirable qualities, they are the safest investment you can make in protecting your home now and for the future. We will be glad to show you samples.

Long asbestos spinning fibre is an essential material in many war products. In mining asbestos, for every ton of long asbestos fibre, many tons of shorter fibre must be produced. This shorter fibre must be utilized, and its principal use is in the manufacture of asbestos shingles. Restrictions were therefore lifted to increase the use of asbestos shingles and thereby insure an adequate supply of long asbestos fibre vitally needed for war.

Phillies Spank Cubs 5-4 Before 20,820 Fans In Night Game; Cards Win

BRAVES BEAT PIRATES 4-0 TO KEEP PACE

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

A thumbnail description of the National league goings-on can be given in one paragraph—the leaders are the Brooklyn Dodgers, the best team probably is the St. Louis Cardinals, the most surprising is the Boston Braves and the most publicized the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Cardinals came surging back at Brooklyn yesterday to retaliate for the 1-0 loss of their series opener by overpowering the Dodgers 7-1. Unlike the day before when the margin of victory was a bit of gridiron tactics on the basepaths, yesterday's tussle between the two rivals for the National league pennant was entirely one-sided.

Braves Beat Bucs

Although the Cardinals won impressively at Brooklyn, they were unable to regain second place in the standings because the bumptious Braves battered the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-0. Al Javery pitched five-hit ball to shade Rip Sewell, even though the latter allowed only five safeties in absorbing his first defeat of the season. The tide of victory was a pair of home runs by rookie Charley Workman and Johnny McCarthy, each with a man on base, for all of Boston's runs.

The Phillies pounced on the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in a night game viewed by 20,820 fans (biggest nocturnal turnout of the season) for their third straight success and eighth in 12 games. Sy Johnson was tight in the pinches, although allowing 11 hits to his teammates, six, and Babe Dahlgren batted in three runs. In addition Ron Northey hit a homer, although he later slipped in right field and cut his knee so badly he may be out of action a week.

Reds Nip Giants

The victory raised the Phillies into a tie with Cincinnati for fourth place and also sent the Cubs staggering to their seventh straight loss.

The Reds nipped the New York Giants again 3-1 in ten innings with a pair of errors by Manager Mel Ott and Dick Bartell of the Giants contributing to Cincinnati's two deciding runs in the overtime frame.

For the second successive day all American league clubs were kept idle by weather conditions.

SPORT SHORTS

Greensburg, Pa., May 19 (AP)—Greensburg high school clinched its sixth straight golf championship in section 2 of the WPIAL yesterday by beating Jeanette 12 to 3.

Uniontown, Pa., May 19 (AP)—George Kiefer, 17, star backfield player of the Belle Vernon high school football team, drowned yesterday while swimming in the Youghiogheny river at Layton.

Pittsburgh, May 19 (AP)—Mose Brown, McKeesport light heavyweight, and Walter Thomas, New York, will fight a six-round preliminary to the Jake Lamotta-Fritzie Zivic match Monday at Forbes Field. Thomas is a stable-mate of Lamotta.

Three-Man Board Will Study Sports

New York, May 19 (AP)—Indications are that a three-man commission to study the wartime sports situation and make recommendations to President Roosevelt will be appointed soon by the Chief Executive, probably even before the week is out.

President Roosevelt told reporters at his press conference at Washington yesterday that he was considering such a committee, following receipt of many letters in which some writers urged that sports be dropped for the duration as a conservation measure and others urged they be continued as morale-building factors.

The committee would study the various sports issues but would have power only to make recommendations to President Roosevelt.

Yesterdays Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Walker Cooper and Stan Musial, Cardinals—Each made three hits and drove in two runs to lead attack against Dodgers.

Al Javery, Charley Workman and Johnny McCarthy, Braves—Javery pitched five-hit shutout and his two teammates each hit home runs with one aboard to account for all scoring against Pirates.

Joe Beggs, Reds—Pitched hitless ball for 2 1/3 innings in relief to beat Giants.

Babe Dahlgren, Phillies—Batted in three of his team's five runs in victory over Cubs.

Carrier Survivor Wins For York Team

(By The Associated Press)

Don Patrick, Naval lieutenant who survived the sinking of the aircraft carrier Wasp, had a sinking to his own credit today, the scuttling of Lancaster's Red Roses, 7 to 4, last night in the Interstate league.

It was Patrick's first mound appearance for York and his team's second straight decision at Lancaster. Wilmington also made it two in a row at Allentown, Tal Abernathy pitching five-hit ball and striking out 12 as the league leaders won, 9 to 1. Tony Parise hit two home runs, each with one on, while Glosboda rapped out another homer for the victors.

Hagerstown followed the two-straight pattern, widening its second place lead over Trenton with an 8 to 5 victory at the New Jersey city. Elmer Weinschneider's homer and double, driving in four runs, contributed to Hagerstown's 15 hits.

Tonight's games: York at Lancaster, Wilmington at Allentown, Hagerstown at Trenton.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 19 (AP)—Last year a number of people (including this columnist) came up with the suggestion that major league baseball clubs should confine their activities to week-ends during 1943 and give their athletes a chance to work at something more useful from Monday to Friday. . . . Naturally, that implied scrapping the two big leagues in favor of groupings that would eliminate east-west travel, and baseball men refused even to think of it. . . . Such a move, they claimed, would be a fate worse than death. . . . Just for curiosity, we've been checking up on attendance figures to see if it has been worth while to continue on the old plan.

EVEN STEPHEN Looking at the standings, as of yesterday, we can't see where an east-west division would have done any harm from a competitive standpoint. . . . The American league had two eastern and two western clubs in the first division and the National was the same except for ties, so their strength appears about evenly divided.

FANCIFUL FIGURES As nearly as we can figure it out, it takes about three and a half week-day crowds to make one Sunday turnout this season. . . . The American league played 53 week-day bills up through Monday before 241,378 customers for an average of 4,554 and 16 Sunday affairs (mostly doubleheaders) drew 241,616 for an average of 15,101. . . . The National league's 56 week-day shows drew 284,396, averaging 5,078 and 16 Sundays drew 299,640, averaging 18,728. . . . Dipping a little deeper into the figures, we find individual crowds ranging from 350 for a Saturday game between the Indians and Browns at St. Louis to 47,086 for a Giants-Dodgers Sunday doubleheader at the Polo Grounds. . . . Twilight and night games are far ahead of mid-week afternoon games in attendance and Saturday crowds, generally speaking, aren't much bigger than other week days.

IN CONCLUSION We don't know what all this proves, unless it's that there should be more Sundays every week. . . . Our conclusion is that the ball clubs are getting along all right and that we writers might be in a tough spot for material if the club owners accepted all our suggestions.

CHANGE OF PACE Harry Mendel, who was wondering what had become of his six-day bike racer since the war put them out of business, has found out since he opened his new steak shoppe in Paterson, New Jersey. . . . The pedal pushers remembered the prime beef Harry used to feed 'em—and that they never had to pick up the tab. . . . Bob Montgomery is one Philadelphia lightweight who ain't. He's a natural 135-pounder, while a "Philadelphia lightweight" always meant a guy who couldn't make the weight. . . . One of the officers at Fort Huachuca, Arizona, where Joe Louis is visiting, is Lieut. Col. John J. Phelan, Jr., son of the boss of the New York Boxing Commission. . . . Joe, it is reported, can understand the colonel without a double-talk interpreter.

TOUGH ASSIGNMENT Frank Graham, the New York sports scribe, relates that his 18-year-old son, Frank, Jr., an apprentice seaman at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, recently was made a member of the staff of the post paper, the Great Lakes Bulletin. . . . Reporting for his new duties, the kid learned that an apprentice seaman whose father, a noted sports expert, recently wrote a book about the New York Yankees. If he inherited his dad's modesty, it probably was the shortest story on record.

BIG WOLFF IS JESSE FLORES' BEST RESCUER

By TED MEIER

Philadelphia, May 19 (AP)—Wherever little Jesse Flores goes these days the big bad wolf (with two f's) is sure to follow.

Which is one way of saying that the diminutive Mexican rookie pitcher for the Athletics, who has gained the headlines with five consecutive triumphs, and Roger Wolff are rapidly becoming a Damon-Pythias combination in major league baseball.

Flores, who twirled for Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast league a year ago, has started five games and in four of them Wolff, a husky six-foot-two knuckleball master, has rushed to his rescue.

Wolff to Rescue

For instance: "Flores wins fifth straight," a headline read after the A's split with Cleveland Sunday, but the box score disclosed that Flores pitched only six innings, leaving the last three to Wolff.

Jesse went 15 2/3 innings against Washington but it was Wolff who stopped a Senator rally, Flores getting credit nevertheless for a 2 to 1 1/2-inning triumph. The lad who almost became a bullfighter stopped the Yankees, 4 to 3, May 9, but Wolff came to his rescue like a volunteer firefighter in the ninth.

Flores doesn't always need help. He twirled a three-hitter against Washington May 4, winning 3 to 1, and going the whole distance. And it was Flores who came to Russ Christopher's assistance to win against Detroit in extra innings May 13.

Hurls Friday

But the Wolff (two f's, remember) is in the offing, in defeat as well as in victory. He was the ninth inning pitcher when the Mackmen lost, 1 to 0, to Boston April 22. Flores, in his first start, had held the Red Sox to two hits before a pinchhitter was called in the eighth.

Jesse is scheduled to start at St. Louis Friday night but in the bullpen—no connection with the Mexican kind—it's virtually certain Roger Wolff will be waiting in case Connie Mack signals that the brother act is on again.

ALIMONY FOR WAAC

Norristown, Pa., May 19 (AP)—Now that his estranged wife is a WAAC, she does not need $12 a week from him, contends socially prominent Albert Kelsey Darling-McNab. He petitioned the Montgomery county court yesterday to terminate a support order granted previously to Mrs. Darling-McNab, the former Barbara Eleanor Lawley.

A Homer But He Had To Dive For It

Jim Grant (sliding), Chicago White Sox third baseman, poled a homer inside the park in the fourth inning of the first game of the double header with the Boston Red Sox, but he had to hit the dirt to score as the ball chased him home. Boston Catcher Johnny Peacock is at the right and Umpire Bill McGowan at the left while the Chicago bat boy (No. 20) bends to watch the play. Chicago won the game 4 to 2 but Boston took the second game, 4 to 2.

A member of the firm, Edwin P. Margerum, said all departments of the business would close for the two weeks "and possibly for the duration of the war."

A belief that the second burglary was the work of professional racketeers was expressed by several of the local and state policemen and OPA investigators to whom the loss was reported.

Just Folks
By Edgar A. Guest
PHEASANT TROUBLE

A pheasant with a collar white
To all men is a handsome sight.
The friends who come to visit me
Delighted are this fowl to see,
But handsome is as handsome does
And I am not so pleased, because
That pheasant has devouring ways
With everything I try to raise.

Time was that fellow and his brood
I welcomed in my proudest mood.
Although he is bereft of song
I fed his flock all winter long,
But he repays my kindness now
By ruining my garden chow.
Why must a bird so fair to see
In gardens so destructive be?

Arrayed in glittering bronze and gold,
Like some great mandarin of old,
He struts my plot of ground about,
Defying me to put him out.
On all my tender shoots he feeds
And leaves me nothing but the weeds.
In spite of all his finery
Merely a well-dressed thief is he.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams

SURVIVAL OF MIND

We are apt to think of survival of words as just mere words. But I like to think of words that have become ideas and created thoughts as the survival of a mind that cannot die. At least in this material world. And then I like to think of the survival of the soul and of the spirit as something still yet apart from the mind, the latter to inherit eternity.

I can read none of my favorite books without feeling the intensity of the mind that gave it form and substance, even though the body that housed that mind may have long been sealed in the breast of the earth.

The endless echoes of minds resounding through our own, so that in fact we are not the owner of one mind, but the partner in perhaps millions!

Like the rare violin that seems to become mellow and sweet in tone the longer it is used, so does the mind become resilient, intermingling its happy remembrances, and storing the fragments of story, song, and fact, to be played upon at will. Should the British Isles suddenly sink into the sea. Keats, Shakespeare, Milton, and Moore, as well as a host of other immortals, would still live through the survival of their minds.

All that is distilled from the beauty of this earth, or from the expression of words from the hearts of human beings, becomes the inheritance of us all. Every flower has a message of good will. Every ray of light contains the substance of survival, for without it none of us could live for the brief time that we do in physical form. About all the many wonders of existence the mind reaches with its invisible fingers.

Through the identity of thought the mind becomes akin to all folk, and through it a universal religion is born, to which all may conform. We are self spectators, as well as of others. But the survival of this mind of ours is so intricately woven with the survival of the universal mind that we remain unconscious of the fact.

Mind contact melts melodiously into the very music of the spheres, and embraces every ray that gleams from every star in the sky!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Myself Inside Myself."

A tablet to the memory of Dr. Milton Valentine, former third president of the college, was unveiled, the presentation being made by Dr. L. B. Wolf, and the acceptance by Martin H. Buehler. The unveiling was by William Elliott Valentine, a great grandchild of Dr. Valentine.

A number of honorary degrees were conferred, among which were doctor of divinity to Harvey D. Hoover, Carthage, Illinois, and W. H. A. Hanson, Harrisburg.

Edmund Emanuel Power, of the class of 1918, is with the American Expeditionary Force in France.

Mining Started Near Cashtown: Active mining operations on the Riddlemoser, Butt and Minter farms in McKnightstown-Cashtown section have been started by Reading capitalists who say that there is sufficient quantity of valuable ore there to keep the place going for many years.

It is one of a very high grade of magnetic ore, running from sixty-three to sixty-seven per cent pure metallic iron.

Russia to Mobilize: (By Telegraph) Washington, May 16—Russia has served notice on Germany that she will have to mobilize all her available forces for self protection as the result of Germany's violations of the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty.

A daughter was born on Thursday to Chaplain and Mrs. E. L. Manges, Carlisle street.

Dr. and Mrs. Granville entertained at luncheon on Wednesday Ex-President Taft and others connected with the college commencement exercises.

Soft Coal Wage Dispute In Hands Of Three Man Board

DECISION OF LABOR BOARD
BEFORE MAY 31

Washington, May 19 (AP)—The nation's soft coal wage dispute today rested in the hands of a three-man fact-finding panel of the War Labor Board.

The panel's report is due some time this week. It will be followed by a full Labor Board decision in the case before May 31, expiration date of the extended truce under which the industry has been operating—without a contract—since a nationwide week-end work stoppage the first of this month.

Then, once again, the question will be whether John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers will accept the board's ruling.

There was no sign early today that the UMW president had altered his stand against the board—which he termed prejudice—despite the Administration's reiteration last night that the dispute was strictly under WLB jurisdiction. The miners seek $2-a-day basic wage increase, underground travel pay and other concessions in a new contract.

Ignores Panel

The UMW has consistently declined to be represented on the panel, or to attempt pleading its case before it.

Interior Secretary Ickes, acting in his capacity as Fuel Administrator and boss of the government-operated coal mines, last night told Lewis in a letter that any contract settling the dispute "must have the approval of the War Labor Board."

When word of the letter reached the coal fields, a mass meeting of miners employed in three mines near Johnstown, Pa., voted to walk out—marking the first break away from Lewis' truce pledge. Approximately 1,800 men work in the affected pits, where the regular midnight and morning shifts report.

Settle Differences

However, elsewhere there was no immediate reaction to Ickes' letter. It was addressed to Lewis after Ickes conferred with Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes and WLB Chairman William H. Davis, during which time reported differences between Ickes and the board were said to have been discussed, and presumably settled. It was sent in reply to the mine leader's Monday message extending the truce from midnight last night to the end of the month, which in turn had responded to Ickes' plea for assurance that there would be no walkout.

The exchange had mentioned plans for "collective bargaining conferences," which led to reports Ickes was going to take the initiative in the dispute and brought a WLB statement that "no other agency of government" was authorized to act in the case.

Ickes' latest letter cemented the WLB position, and when Lewis declined in New York to "comment at the present time," attention centered on the forthcoming report from the fact-finding panel.

YANKS BRACED FOR JAPANESE
COUNTER DRIVE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, May 19 (AP)—American forces throughout the Pacific are braced for a possible Japanese counter stroke which may be attempted to offset their apparently losing battle to hold Attu island.

Military and Naval experts here noted as of special significance today the fact that during the first week after the United States attack on the westernmost of the Aleutians May 11 the Japanese fleet stayed safely away from the battle zone and no attempt was made to move in reinforcements.

Since the battle may be lost in a few days, unless bad weather hampers American operations, Tokyo has little time to lose if it intends to follow the pattern of opposition laid down in the South Pacific when United States troops invaded Guadalcanal and northeastern New Guinea.

Costly Assaults

The battles in those islands were marked by Japanese determination to hold their positions at all costs and as a result they spent ships, planes and men in campaigns which they could have had but the slenderest hope of winning.

The Japanese high command may still attempt to get reinforcements into Kiska, which inevitably would precipitate a Naval battle with American warships in that area, or it may try a face-saving thrust in some other sector.

First details on the actual fighting on the island came from the Navy yesterday in two communiques and a press conference which revealed that Army troops, having landed at opposite points on the north and south sides of the eastern end of the island, are closing a trap on the main Japanese positions at Holtz Bay.

STATE WHEAT CROP IS LOW

Harrisburg, May 19 (AP)—Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture, predicted today that wheat production in Pennsylvania this year would be the lowest since 1866.

He asserted an indicated low yield per acre and a high percentage of abandonment of planted crops was responsible for the expected drop, estimating 1943 production at 12,352,000 bushels—2,000,000 below the 1942 mark and nearly 5,500,000 under the average production listed for the 1932-1941 period.

Need More Wheat

"The indicated lower yield and abandonment result from unfavorable winter weather," the secretary declared. "Also alternate freezing and thawing during April damaged wheat stands in farmer's fields."

Horst's announcement followed by a few days' disclosure by federal officials of plans to ask for a 25 per cent increase in winter wheat production over the nation next year. Last year 52,000,000 acres were harvested, 824,000 of them in Pennsylvania.

Grain experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture said Food Administrator Chester C. Davis planned to ask farmers for a sharp increase in acreage devoted to winter wheat, anticipating that the United States will be called on to ship large quantities to Europe in 1944.

YOUTHS TO AID IN FARM WORK

Harrisburg, May 19 (AP)—U.S. Employment service officers said Tuesday that high school students will be available this summer to help harvest crops in Pennsylvania.

State headquarters of the service said that already in Bucks county members of the Youths Land army have cut an asparagus crop, one group of 120 cutting 190 acres in a day. Groups of students also have worked in Butler and Lawrence counties.

While final figures on the enrollment campaign conducted recently by the employment service are not yet available, more than 2,000 boys and girls have signed up in the 10-county Pittsburgh area for voluntary work in harvest fields and 5,000 more in the Philadelphia area.

Students will receive the prevailing wage rate and receive transportation and housing, if necessary, from employers.

The employment service said high school students will be the main source of labor for picking fruit from some half-million trees in Adams county, a half-million bushels of peaches in Franklin county, 6,000,000 pounds of cherries in Erie county and 9,000 acres of potatoes in Somerset county.

Martin Appeals For More Nurses

Harrisburg, May 19 (AP)—Governor Martin urges public support of a campaign to enroll this year 6,500 student nurses in Pennsylvania's 124 schools of nursing for war and civilian service training.

"Nurses are needed in ever increasing numbers to care for our wounded at the war front," he said in a statement. "In addition there is a great shortage of nurses for civilian service. The call is urgent. I am confident the response will be prompt and effective."

SEVERE FLOOD HITS INDIANA

Indianapolis, May 19 (AP)—One of the worst floods since the disaster of 1913 tore through central and northern Indiana Tuesday.

At least four lives have been lost in the raging torrents. More than 500 families have been moved from flooded homes in Marion, Frankfort, Wabash, Indianapolis and other places.

Flood waters surged over thousands of acres of lowlands, damaging early-planted farm crops. Numerous Victory Gardens have been washed away.

Nine blocks of sandbagged levee and the Charles Mills dam at Marion quivered under the pressure of swollen Mississinewa river. Three hundred families in the area were evacuated.

The Wabash river at Wabash reached nine feet over flood stage and was still rising.

SCORES STATE
USES SERVICE
PACKING PLAN

Harrisburg, Pa., May 19 (AP)—A danger that the flow of skilled workers into Pennsylvania war industries will be hampered if "carpetbag political administrators" receive authority in the U. S. Employment service is seen by William H. Chesnut, State Secretary of Labor and Industry.

In a telegram last night to War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, Chesnut also disputed a report by W. P. Englehorn, acting WMC regional director, that employment offices in the state are understaffed.

"This seems to be a further promotion of a proposal introduced two weeks ago to break down the employment service from a central state unit to four or more areas each to be headed by politically sponsored directors and thus obliterate any trace of the efficient and smoothly operating employment service which the commonwealth loaned to the Federal government," Chesnut's message said.

1,600 In State

"I have the utmost confidence in your integrity and am convinced that you are not willingly lending support to this obvious program of deactivating the employment service by the introduction of carpetbag political administrators who if given authority will retard if not actually halt the orderly recruitment and induction of skilled workers into Pennsylvania war industries."

Chesnut told McNutt the employment service, in his department until its transfer to the Federal government in 1942, now has 1,600 employees in the state, 418 of them in Philadelphia.

NAZIS PROMISE AID FOR DUCE

London, May 19 (AP)—Germany officially recognized the gravity of Italy's position Tuesday with assurances to her invasion-conscious junior partner that she would not be deserted and left to fight alone.

The campaign of reassurance, obviously intended to bolster weakened Italian morale, was disclosed in dispatches from Bern which quoted Deutsche Diplomatische Korrespondenz, German Foreign Office organ, as saying the European southern front would be defended jointly. It came as an answer to speculation in the London press that Italy, her usefulness to Hitler exhausted, was about to be deserted and left to her fate.

SPEED QUELLS BLAZE

Berrysburg, Pa., May 19 (AP)—Several 100-year dashes by Earl Stone, Dauphin county farmer, from a well to a blazing barn with a pail of water today were credited with keeping a fire started by lightning under control until Elizabethtown firemen could arrive and extinguish it.

In Canada's early days rewards were offered to men who married at 18 or younger.

Draft Of 4F's May Postpone Fathers

Washington, May 19 (AP)—Plans to draft several millions of men in classes deferred for physical defects, and others heretofore deemed "necessary" to industry, may operate to delay the induction of fathers.

The War Manpower Commission announced Monday that replacement schedules providing for the gradual drafting of some 3,000,000 workers now employed in essential industries had been filed by 5,500 employing firms.

Earlier Monday Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey told a Senate committee that "a good many men" now classed as 4-F because of minor physical defects will be drafted.

Paul V. McNutt, War Manpower commissioner, said his earlier estimate that industries would average 12,000 a day throughout the year still held good despite a sharp decline from the rate that was reached during the winter months.

Steel Workers To Stay On Strike

Pittsburgh, May 19 (AP)—A mass meeting of CIO United Steel Workers voted Monday night to remain on strike "until all of our grievances are settled" at the Big Etna Pipe Plant of Spang-Chalfant, Inc. The men quit work Monday, throwing about 1,500 idle.

Organizer Henry Bittner from the sub-regional office of the union pleaded in vain for the men to go back pending mediation of the grievances, as did Federal Councilor Paul Heenan and two Army ordnance representatives.

"This is not a strike but a lock-out—they won't let us work our right turns," shouted back local union leaders to the pleas.

Coal Dispute Is
"Galling" Soldiers

Teaneck, N. J., May 19 (AP)—The coal dispute in this country is "galling" some American soldiers in Britain, says Lieutenant Joseph B. Boyle, co-pilot of the famed Flying Fortress "Dry Martini."

In a letter from Britain to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Boyle, he said:

"That coal strike is galling a lot of people I know. We have a lot of friends who would be alive today if they had simply decided not to fight. But although they disliked fighting more than they would mining coal, they fought anyway, figuring it had to be done."

The California redwood is the largest tree found in North America.

HIGHWAY TO HER HEART

by MAXINE SHORE

Chapter 13

The course that Penny and Cleve were following took them along the Peace River in the general direction of Fort St. John. They went along the stream, but never very close to it now. Deep cut banks, rocks and driftwood piled the shore. It was impossible to walk there and have any progress. So they had climbed the long, steep slope of the river valley to its top where the ground was more level.

The day following Cleve's injury Penny estimated that they had traveled only four miles. Cleve had to pause every little while to rest. The land they were traversing was cluttered thick with brush. Branches kept snapping back, no matter how careful they were, to strike Cleve's wounded arm.

When they made camp, Cleve said, "I guess I didn't do so well, tot. But tomorrow I'll be feeling better."

His face was still flushed. His eyes had a strange glassy look. Penny was alarmed.

"If you'd just listen to me, Cleve, we'd stop and rest for a day or two."

He forced a laugh. "Not on my account."

"If you should play out, what would happen to us then?"

Cleve waved the possibility aside. "The way I figure," he said, "we can't be more than five or ten miles from Long Portage. If there's any traffic on the river at all, we should meet up with somebody there. Perhaps wangle another canoe."

"Possibly," answered Penny.

"From Long Portage it's just twenty miles to the mouth of Moose Creek."

"And from there, twenty-five miles to le Frene's shack," said Penny.

They were taking an inventory of the miles. A mile didn't sound like much when one was talking about it, Penny reflected. But to travel over one in this wilderness with all the barriers of rocks, brush and hills, was entirely different. It was a continuous struggle, with new hazards every minute. There were small streams to ford, steep slopes to climb, swamps or muskegs unexpectedly barring the way.

"Altogether only about another fifty miles," she said gloomily.

She threw down her pack and averted her head so Cleve couldn't see the discouragement welling in her eyes.

"Yes," said Cleve, "only fifty miles. We're halfway there."

"Halfway there," repeated Penny dully.

"What I'm banking on is Long Portage and another canoe," said Cleve. "This constant walking is too hard on you, Penny."

Too hard on her! Here he's been stumbling along all day through a fog of pain, fever, hunger and fatigue, yet his concern was for her. What a dear he was, Penny thought. Involuntarily, she wondered what Powell Ward would have done under such circumstances, how he would have reacted to such heartbreaking difficulties.

"I'm not worrying about me," Penny said. "I'm worrying about you. We might as well face it. Cleve. Your injury is much worse than you or I care to admit."

"Nonsense," said Cleve.

"You're going on nerve," she went on doggedly. "Only your will is driving you. You're burning with fever. No use denying it. I'm not blind."

"Trouble is," Cleve admitted reluctantly, "that blamed bullet lodged next to the bone. It sets up constant irritation."

"Oh, Cleve!"

"I didn't want to tell you, Penny, but you can see now why we can't stop. We've got to push on to Portage."

Penny moistened her lips, nodding. She thought about that as she busied herself gathering firewood, fetching water from the nearby creek. Cleve wanted to help, but she wouldn't let him.

"Don't be absurd, Cleve."

"I just don't like the way I feel, watching you carrying like a squaw. You were created, Penny, for an ivory and chromium penthouse—the kind Powell can provide."

A penthouse seemed very remote just now. Everything seemed remote except this campfire and Cleve and herself closed in by the inscrutable Canadian wilderness.

"What's on the menu?" asked Cleve, valiantly cheerful.

"As if you didn't know. More rice. A demi tasse of boiled creek water. Poor Wolf—it's tough on him." Penny looked around suddenly. "Why, Cleve, where is he?"

Cleve said, "Oh, he's about somewhere. I saw him not long ago—following you down to the creek."

"But I haven't seen him since. Oh, Cleve, I wouldn't want to lose him!"

"He's probably off foraging for something to eat."

"But he's just a pup. Something might happen to him."

Penny got up, walked off toward the creek, calling and whistling, peering through the trees, into the underbrush. No answer. No scamper of feet. No high excited yapping. Cleve rose laboriously to join the search, sharing her anxiety.

"I hope nothing's happened to the little rascal," he said.

They were both remembering that Wolf had probably saved Cleve's life by diverting Stringer's attention when he'd pulled the gun. But neither mentioned that. Tired as they were, neither said anything about discontinuing the hunt for the little malemute.

Small tracks led them back along the creek into the woods. It was darker here and cooler. More lonely. Penny stayed close to Cleve.

"Probably scented a rabbit or a squirrel," muttered Cleve. "Can't blame him for deserting us and our rice."

"No," said Penny.

Suddenly, she paused, sniffing the air. Simultaneously, Cleve gave a husky shout.

"Smoke!" he said. "Over there, Penny."

TAX MEASURE MUDDLED BUY HOUSE ACTION

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Washington, May 19 (AP)—A hard-pressed conference committee faced an abrupt deadline today for hammering together a pay-as-you-go tax bill mutually acceptable to the House, the Senate and the President.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance committee told reporters: "If this bill hangs on here until even the week after next, I do not believe it could be made effective July 1. If not made effective then, it could hardly be put into effect before next January."

At the same time, George said he believed there were no irreconcilable differences between the two branches of Congress, despite the action of the House yesterday in rejecting, 202 to 194, the Senate's version of the Ruml skip-a-year plan.

Seek Compromise
The Senate bill called for cancellation of an entire year's income

After the first relief, they grew cautious. Once before smoke had led them to a campfire—and into danger. They walked on quietly. Penny heard Wolf yapping. They looked through a screen of saskatoon.

"A Cree encampment," said Cleve. "Thank heaven."

The Indians were hospitable. Wolf welcomed them proudly, frisked about making silent canine introductions to his new friends. Here was food. His sharp nose had scented it. He hoped his master and mistress were pleased.

They were—very. Cleve wasted no time in buying venison, some dried fish, a chunk of bacon, and some sugar, tea, salt and soda. Elated, they bore the bounty back to their own campfire, Wolf scampering ahead.

INACTIVE GOP WORKERS MAY BE DISMISSED

Harrisburg, May 19 (AP)—Prospects of a political house-cleaning by the Republican administration to rid state payrolls of employees inactive in party affairs were reported today by an authoritative source.

Governor Martin and Republican state Chairman M. Harvey Taylor are checking all departments, asserted the GOP informant, who declined use of his name. He added: "Republican leaders want to clear the state payroll of workers who have not obtained sponsorship of their county chairmen and who have not done any political work in their counties."

"It is a home rule idea to build up Republican strength in the counties with the chairmen taking full responsibility for those they endorse for state employment."

"Some Changes"

He said he "wouldn't be a bit surprised" if those in jobs paying $2,000 or more a year will be affected since he explained such posts are looked on as political plums for loyal party members.

Taylor denied knowledge of wholesale dismissals but added, "there's bound to be some changes made." Another administration source said "there will be some turnover of state workers from week to week but no radical changes are anticipated."

Outside of cabinet changes, the turnover in state personnel since Martin succeeded Arthur H. James in January has been slight, as both are Republican organization men.

Other administration sources pointed out the number of applicants for the smaller paid state jobs has declined because of the war.

KILLED IN CRASH

Destroyer-Escort Ship To Be Launched

Wilmington, Del., May 19 (AP)—The Dravo corporation announced Tuesday that it will launch its first destroyer-escort vessel Saturday.

It will be christened the USS Cannon in honor of First Lieut. George Ham Cannon, Marine officer who was awarded the Congressional medal of honor after he died of wounds during a Japanese attack on Midway Island.

His mother, Mrs. Estelle Ham Cannon, 110 Olivia Ave., Ann Arbor, Michigan, will sponsor the anti-submarine vessel.

Food Truckers Are Hampered By Union

Philadelphia, May 19 (AP)—Approximately 1,000 trucks carrying food and other products between Philadelphia and the Vineland area of New Jersey were idle today, many of them having been stopped along highways yesterday.

Harry Adler, counsel for Vineland Local No. 676 of the A. F. L. Teamsters and Truckers union, said Philadelphia Local No. 109 of that organization had refused to permit trucks from South Jersey to enter Philadelphia and that the Vineland local stopped trucks from Philadelphia in reprisal.

Adler, who estimated that 800 Philadelphia drivers and 200 from the New Jersey area were involved, said some deliveries of perishable foods were permitted by both groups.

Officials of the Philadelphia local could not be reached for comment.

SARDINIA IS BOMBED AGAIN

BY WILLIAM B. KING

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 19 (AP)—Carrying on an unrelenting attack on Italy's Mediterranean islands, Allied Air Force Wellingtons of the RAF bombed the airfield and Port of Alghero on the west coast of Sardinia Monday night.

Bomb bursts were seen in the town and port areas and one large fire in the center of the town appeared to be spreading beyond control, pilots said.

The Wellingtons topped off their raid by machine gunning the targets from low altitude.

Severe Damage

Bright moonlight which made it possible for the Wellingtons to conduct a raid under conditions almost as good as daylight on the outskirts of Rome the night before, again aided the bombers and they did some of their strafing from as low as 200 feet. One pilot had to veer sharply to avoid a church steeple, he said.

Photographs taken during the Flying Fortress attack on Cagliari, Sardinia, on May 13, showed the

"How did I know you'd need bombs?"

MORE than half the bombs this country makes exist by what you might call an "accident."

"Some accident, too! I saw it happen."

"It was 1935. We research workers at Esso were trying many things with petroleum to see what else we could learn about it. And up came a process for synthetic toluol."

"Well, you need toluol to make TNT. But coal-tar was providing all the toluol the country needed—then."

"However...all the toluol you could get from coal-tar would make far less than half the TNT we're using now! The other half is made by that Esso process perfected back in 1935."

"Now...I didn't know then that you'd need bombs, and neither did you. And I can hear a lot of people say 'Boy was that discovery a lucky thing!'..."

"But I don't call it luck. I call it the American idea at work. We hit on that process because free American people expect so much that American companies have to learn everything they can about new and better methods just to stay out front in business."

"If this war didn't prove anything else, it would prove that nothing like America ever existed anywhere before."

What other idea ever did so many people so much good in peacetime? What other idea ever turned out so much might so fast in time of war?"
